

Packrafting Adventure

A weeklong paddling adventure for everyone who has paddled and camped before and wants to try out packrafting by paddling Swedish Lapland's untamed river Kalix with its varied character.

Packrafts are fantastic tools to explore unknown waters, they are very light, easy to paddle and if you need to portage, they are packed easily, so that you are back on the water in no time.

1. Day, Sunday, arrival - we pick you up on the airport in Kiruna, the train station in Gällivare or Kiruna, or you come by car to our base in Moskojärvi, where we accommodate you in our cosy cabin. We pack all the gear in the car for the next days, have dinner together and plan the coming week in detail.

2. Day, Monday, transport and start paddling – in the morning we take the car to our starting point in Kaalaluspa close to Kiruna, we inflate and pack the boats and start paddling. The river welcomes us with some minor rapids and long stretches of calm water. After paddling approx. 20 km we reach our camp spot for tonight, here we set up tents to create a cosy camp, cook dinner and maybe find some time to fish in the river.

3. Day, Tuesday, paddling – we spend the day on the river, paddling through varied terrain with high gravelly riverbanks, wide open swamps and every once in a while a little hut along the riverside. We camp after approx. 20 km of paddling in the surrounding pine forest.

4. Day, Wednesday, paddling – a full day on the river, after approx. 20 km paddling, we reach the Wilderness Camp in Lappeasuando, this night we can sleep in a heated hut and enjoy the luxury of a hot sauna.

5. Day, Thursday, paddling, hiking – today is a short paddling day with some portaging around the big rapids in Lappeasuando, after approx. 15 km paddling, we find a camp spot on an island in the river. If we have time in the afternoon, those who feel for walking can take a hike up on the closest hill and get an overview over the surroundings.

6. Day, Friday, paddling – after approx. 20 km we reach our camp spot for tonight, we sleep in tents next to „Parakkakurkkio“ – the biggest rapid on our trip. Tomorrow, we need to portage around the canyon, so who feels for scouting, can already today go and check out the best place to re-enter the river.

7. Day, Saturday, paddling – short day of paddling, after 10 km we reach the goal of the day and hereby the end of our paddling trip. We take the car back to our base in Moskojärvi, take care of the gear, enjoy a hot sauna and a good dinner together to look back on an eventful paddling week.
